

Lyngk is the newest addition to the award-winning and wildly popular Gipf Project series by Kris Burm.

At the beginning of the cat-and-mouse game of Lyngk, the pieces are distributed randomly on the gameboard. The players take turns moving and capturing pieces, and during the game each claims 2 colors of pieces as their own. The challenge is both how best to capture the pieces, and when to claim the colors. The game ends when no more moves can be made. The player with the most claimed stacks wins.
