

Retail demand has increased for Victory Point Games' new release, Twilight of the Gods: Age of Revelation.

Estimated Release Date: September 2017

In Twilight of the Gods: Age of Revelation, players take turns battling using fully customizable 50-card decks. Each turn, you draw two cards, acquire resources from other players, and use them to summon Creatures, Schemes, Fortifications, and Intrigues because "smite makes right." Your deck is also your "life points," and the last player with cards in their deck wins. Four carefully balanced (for 2-player play), pre-constructed decks are included to help you get started. As more expansion cards are released, these decks become increasingly customizable.

Twilight of the Gods: Age of Revelation is an "expandable" card game universe; you will know what cards you are getting and everyone has access to the same cards. It is not "collectible!" Beyond the 200+ cards in Twilight of the Gods: Age of Revelation, already planned-and-designed boxed expansions will include another 50 cards each. Other large expansions like this one will introduce a new Age with 200 more cards.
